The Chinese Room: Rule Book

For the person in the room. A note comes in. Find the note that looks the same in the left column. Copy the reply from the right column onto the back of the note. Pass it out.

You do not need to know what the notes say. Just match the shapes.

	If the note looks like this . . .	. . . copy this reply.
1	你喜欢吃什么？	我喜欢吃饺子。
2	你会说中文吗？	会，我会说中文。
3	你好吗？	我很好，谢谢。
4	你几岁？	我十五岁。
5	今天天气怎么样？	今天天气很好。
6	你叫什么名字？	我叫小明。

Note cards, for the people outside the room. Cut out the cards. Pass one note into the room. When the reply comes back, check it with the meaning on your card. Does the reply make sense?

你好吗？

fold here

The note means: How are you?
A good reply means: I am fine, thank you.

Fold this part back before the note goes in.

你叫什么名字？

fold here

The note means: What is your name?
A good reply means: My name is . . .

Fold this part back before the note goes in.

你喜欢吃什么？

fold here

The note means: What do you like to eat?
A good reply means: I like to eat . . .

Fold this part back before the note goes in.

今天天气怎么样？

fold here

The note means: How is the weather today?
A good reply means: The weather is . . .

Fold this part back before the note goes in.

你几岁？

fold here

The note means: How old are you?
A good reply means: I am . . . years old.

Fold this part back before the note goes in.

你会说中文吗？

fold here

The note means: Can you speak Chinese?
A good reply means: Yes, I can speak Chinese. (Is that true?)

Fold this part back before the note goes in.